

NFL OFFICIALS' NUMBERS
1942-2022

(Revised May 16, 2022)

Forward: The NFL has been assigning numbers to their officials since 1942. This assignment was made without regard to position or seniority. When the NFL and the AFL merged in 1970, the senior official retained his original number ("A" denotes an AFL official). From 1979-1981(shaded)officials were assigned numbers 1-25, by position, thus there were duplicate numbers. "AA" denotes the All-American Football Conference (1946-1950). An (*) indicates deceased. Bold name indicates an active official.

Notes of interest: In 1947, the Back Judge position was added. In 1965, the Line Judge position was added and the red and white flag was replaced with a yellow flag. In 1978, the Side Judge position was added. In 1998 the Field Judge and Back Judge names were switched. In 1999, Replay was made a permanent part of the NFL Game. In 2017, the Head Linesman position was re-named Down Judge.
